Harassment on Campus: A Quick Guide to Respond

Being a member of the Beach community means that you may come across things on campus or the internet and social media which you don't agree with – or that specifically targets you, a group of individuals, or an ideology. The University makes every effort to make sure all students, staff, faculty, and guests are treated fairly. In that spirit, this guide is intended to help ind(n)-9.s, staff,

Tips for students, staff, and faculty

Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development USU – 238 / (562) 985-5270 http://web.csulb.edu/divisions/students/judicial_affairs/

Office of Equity and Diversity Foundation – 120 / (562) 985-8256

https://web.csulb.edu/gobeach/depts/oed/

rsity-police

For issues related to the posting of materials

An anonymous crime tip can be submitted by following the link on the right side of the webpage.

Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3)

https://www.ic3.gov/default.aspx